WORLD FAMOUS ILLUSTRATOR PASSES AWAY

When customers began to request that Chick tracts be redrawn for a black audience, Jack Chick tapped a world class artist for the job —Fred Carter.

Fred was the illustrator of over 90 tracts and the Crusader comic books. He also created hundreds of oil paintings that Jack used in various projects, like the gospel film, “The Light of the World”.

For decades, Jack and Fred worked together to draw the artwork for Chick tracts and several of Jack’s tracts were redrawn by Fred for a black audience, with black characters. On May 9th, 2022, Fred Carter passed away. He was 83.

These tracts are shown on the left (page 24) and you can read them in their entirety on our website. Look for the category called, “Black Tract Series.”

#4030 • Running time - 78 minutes, $14.95

GOD WAS NOT SURPRISED. HE HAD A PLAN...

Now that both Jack and Fred are with the Lord in heaven, we needed God to provide another person who could write the stories for new tracts and draw the cartoon art, with the same passion and in the same style as Jack and Fred.

Fifteen years before, the Lord provided a man, David W. Daniels, to work closely with Jack and learn his style. He wrote several tracts that Jack Chick later drew.

In July of 2022, David wrote and drew his first tract called, “No Way In?”

It’s been well received!

Tim Berends Talks About Witnessing to Muslims in Dearborn, Michigan:

"By wearing my 'I love Muslims' t-shirt and greeting them with a simple Arabic phrase, they usually welcome me long enough to get a tract into their hands.

"I walk directly toward them with a smile, raise my voice and say 'as-salamu alaykum' (Which means, 'Peace Be Upon You'). Usually they will smile as they see my t-shirt and hear the greeting. I give each member in the group a tract and say: 'Here is one for each of you, so you won't fight over them.'" Using this good humor, he is rarely turned down.

"Many Christians have a fear of witnessing to Muslims, but they are just another kind of lost soul."
