Our libraries are being taken over by Marxists. Parents are appalled by how difficult it is to get pornography and communist teachings out of their local libraries and public schools. The recent election of a new president of the 57,000-member American Library Association (ALA) shows us why. She tweeted:

“I just cannot believe that a Marxist lesbian who believes that collective power is possible to build and can be wielded for a better world is the president elect of @ALALibrary. I am so excited for what we will do together. Solidarity!” —ALA president Emily Drabinsky

Emily Drabinsky is delighted to have been elected head of the 57,000-member American Library Association.

Homosexual Consequences No One Talks About

One of the huge tragedies of the sexual revolution is seldom mentioned. The apostle Paul alludes to it in Romans 1:27. He said that homosexuals are “receiving in themselves that recompence (consequences) of their error which was meet (suitable).” Besides broken dreams of a fulfilling intimacy, physical bodies are also broken in multiple ways.

Statistics are hard to come by, but things like suicide rates, sexually transmitted diseases, shortened lifespans, and the medical consequences of extraordinary wear and tear on physical organs are all extremely high.

Just one case of HIV can require treatment that runs into the tens of thousands of dollars. In addition is the pain and suffering and lost productivity of that person. It is claimed that what consenting adults do in the privacy of their own home is of no public concern. Yet if their behavior adds millions of dollars of cost to the economy, it is everyone's concern.

Satan has been very, very busy concocting lies about sex. If you know God's original plan for peak personal intimacy in marriage, resulting in replacements for the population, then all those lies stand out in sharp contrast. But people without knowledge of His plan are easily deceived. Young people can enter this lifestyle thinking it is a source of love and affection but soon realize they are trapped in a slavery to others who are only interested in using their bodies.

There is an old line advocacy group who has published a book about the health hazards of homosexuality. It's a really big book; 632 pages to be exact. And it's full of stuff you probably wouldn't want your youngster to read, but if he did, it might scare him straight. It is called The Health Hazards of Homosexuality and is published by a dedicated exposor of evil, Mass Resistance. Actually, the book is a massive commentary on Romans 1:27.

The four-page table of contents covers every available statistic and sordid detail of the consequences of homosexual perversion, including a chapter on transgenderism. A brief review makes it clear that God did not build our bodies to stand up to such abuse. He wonderfully designed our bodies for male-female intimacy. And they work the best during a lifelong commitment to marriage.

For anyone who reads a Chick tract on God's view of homosexuality and needs more proof of its truth, this book, available at www.massresistance.org, will scare them straight if they take it seriously. Most who are sucked into that lifestyle are young and oblivious to the dangers. They believe the lie that it is just another kind of enjoyable family relationship.

Major Exodus From Liberal Denomination

An awakening of sorts seems to be happening in one of the denominations that has strayed from Biblical doctrine. Seventy congregations in north Georgia have voted to leave the United Methodist Church (UMC), primarily because of a creeping acceptance of homosexuality in the denomination. Another 35 in Arkansas and 100 in Florida, as well as many others across the country, are studying the matter.

The split has been brewing for quite some time ever since the homosexual steamroller began to gain some momentum. Besides the Bible, UMC has a denominational manual called the UMC Book of Discipline. It specifically states that homosexuality is "incompatible with Christian teaching." But some of those in leadership, both in the UMC denominational and local church areas have chosen to ignore these guidelines and go ahead with integrating practicing homosexuals into leadership positions.

When more biblically-based congregations objected to this, it appeared that denominational leaders were maneuvering to avoid dealing with the question. Eventually, this led to the current move away from cooperation with the central organization including the establishment of a separate structure called, "Global Methodist Church." Some UMC groups project that 20% of the churches in their state will abandon the UMC for the GMC.

It is encouraging to see someone willing to stand for Biblical truth against the steamroller created by homosexual activists. John Wesley, founder of Karl Marx was the originator of a godless political system with the diabolical strategy of creating strife in a nation sufficient to overthrow the government. They then install a tyrannical rule by a powerful elite who live sumptuously while everyone else starves. Marxism is the philosophy behind the Critical Race Theory curriculum in our schools today. Racial strife is their strategy.

Over 100 million people have been executed or starved to death by some form of Marxist philosophy. This has happened primarily through the “collective power” that Drabinsky plans to use for a “better world.”

Her other bragging point is being a “lesbian.” With this chosen lifestyle it is unlikely that she will side with the parents against your local library hosting scantily clad drag queens reading books to your kindergartners. It is outrageous that the federal Department of Education is using our taxpayer dollars to fund the grooming of our children for this perversity.

It is also not likely that concerned parents will be included in the “we” of her ominous statement of “what we will do together.”

And we have to ask, solidarity with whom? Power hungry tyrants have always indulged in sexual perversion. Their use of the entertainment industry provides the driving force, as was recently admitted by Disney staff.

What should we do?

First, we need to pray for success for the courageous parents who are standing against this monstrous evil coming through the libraries after our kids.

Second, we need to withdraw from supporting or buying the products of companies who openly pervert our children. Voting with our pocketbook is something they understand.

People are cancelling subscriptions, choosing to buy other products and shopping at other stores, to put into action what they believe.

We need to show God we are serious about what He calls “sin.” Only then will people understand that this cannot continue, and that there is hope.

Let’s saturate our communities with as much of God’s word as we can afford. Only then will true repentance and revival come.

Chick Publications has general gospel tracts that call for repentance from all kinds of sin. Then there are a few targeted to specific sins such as homosexuality. You can read them all at www.chick.com and purchase the ones that you feel will further your personal ministry.

When You Say ‘Greek,’ — Which One?

When someone says that they are consulting “the Greek” to interpret a scripture, we need to ask, “Which one?”

Most English Bibles trace their roots back to one of two Greek New Testaments. In the 16th century, a Greek New Testament was published which relied on documents God had used to preserve His word. The manuscripts used to create this Greek New Testament generally agreed with over 5,700 others that were collected through history. This Greek New Testament came to be called the “Textus Receptus” (Latin for “Received Text”) and was used by the translators of the King James Bible in 1611.

But in 1881, a new English Bible was produced to “fix” the King James, which some considered obsolete. Scholars used a small sampling of manuscripts, just

Does Proposed Law Decriminalize Infanticide?

In the abortion debate, it is obvious that a lot of people don't want a baby before it's born. But that is just a small step away from not wanting the baby after birth. A new law proposed in California seems to be pushing the limit in that direction.

Tagged AB2223, it appears to eliminate any criminal penalties for killing the baby anytime before birth and for a short time after birth. The section of the law that is of the most concern reads:

“Notwithstanding any other law, a person shall not be subject to civil or criminal liability or penalty, or otherwise deprived of their rights, based on their actions or omissions with respect to their pregnancy or actual, potential, or alleged pregnancy outcome, including miscarriage, stillbirth, or abortion, or perinatal death.”

Since almost all legislation is ambiguous until interpreted by the courts in an actual trial, the debate on this one is going both ways. And the debate is centered around the term “perinatal.” Currently, our laws define murder as the killing of a living, breathing human. Newborns inevitably fit this category, even if they live through a botched abortion.

Abortion advocates have no problem lobbying for the child's death before birth. And it remains to be seen how this law would apply to those who kill a child before birth. But the new use of the term perinatal brings in a whole new dimension.

Webster defines perinatal as: “... relating to the time, usually a number of weeks, immediately before and after birth.” It is the “after birth” part that is concerning.

For 50 years we have legalized the murder of babies before birth. This legislation appears to be a be a blatant attempt to protect from prosecution those who wish to murder the child after it is born.

With California's record of leading the nation into the frontier of sin, the more dire interpretation of the result of this law may be valid. Several legal experts think so.

Attorney and Chief Executive Officer Alexandra Snyder of the Life Legal Defense Foundation: “AB 2223 is not only a pro-abortion bill —it removes all civil and criminal penalties for killing babies born alive under any circumstances. The bill expressly authorizes any person to facilitate late-term abortions and infanticide without legal repercussions.”

“AB 2223 seeks to legalize the killing of babies in California after birth. Depending on how the term ‘perinatal’ is interpreted by the courts, this bill legalizes the infanticide of children several weeks after their birth and possibly as late as their first birthday. If this barbaric bill is enacted, there will be no criminal or civil liability for the mother or those who assist her with killing her baby post-birth.”—Attorney and President of the National Center for Law and Policy, Dean Broyles.

How can this be any different than the Romans who left their unwanted children outside their homes, food for the scavengers? We're told that Christians would gather them up and raise them in the underground church.

Sin that is tolerated inevitably leads to more grievous sin. But fighting legal battles will never win without solid righteousness in the people. And a few dozen, to “correct” the readings of the Textus Receptus and create a new Greek document called the “Critical Greek Text.”

This new “Greek” was used to produce the “Revised Version” of the Bible. In the 1900s, others carried forward the movement to revise the Bible, producing new “critical editions” of the Greek text. These were used to create most modern Bibles. Since they come from a different source, they naturally produce a different Bible (sometimes with contradictions).

So, today, when someone says that they “checked the Greek,” we need to know which one, because there are significant differences between the Textus Receptus and the Critical Text.

David W. Daniels, a trained linguist, noticed some of these differences and decided to investigate why. What he found shocked him.

But it was complicated. He has spent over 15 years digging out the details and publishing his findings. They are contained in more than a dozen books and over 250 video blogs that track the progress of his research.

If the plot by Satan that Daniels discovered is not stopped, changes will continue to be made until eventually what will be called the Bible will be nothing more than another religious document watered down to support the coming one world religion (that’s actually the goal).

Daniels has a small book that gives the basics of this plot. It is easy to read because Jack Chick provided simple illustrations of the narrative. It provides a summary of the plot from the present back to its beginning right after the books of our Bible were assembled.

The title of that book asks the vital question: “Did the Catholic Church Give Us The Bible?” because this counterfeit church turns out to be a major tool to execute Satan’s plot against God’s words. Read the fascinating story that the “Christian” media doesn’t want to talk about.

Chick Mail Bag

On a trip home from Alaska to Idaho, I had a layover in Seattle and had an opportunity to have a conversation with a gentleman about earthquakes and death which led to “spiritual” things. The man asked about what the afterlife would be like. Before I had the chance to answer, my flight was called for boarding. I was thinking, “What can I do?” Then the Lord reminded me I was carrying Chick tracts in my purse! I pulled one out and gave it to him and said, “This tells of what life is like after we die. Would you like to read it?” He instantly took it from me and started reading it right away. I was thrilled to see the Lord working in the man’s heart and I have prayed for that man’s salvation since then. I trust that the Lord used that tract to bring him to Christ. Thanks for making it possible for me to witness to others when time is so short. You have made witnessing so easy and in a way that people will read it.

Methodism, would turn over in his grave if he knew that this was even an issue in the church that he birthed.

But other church organizations are not immune to this. The homosexual mantra, “love is love,” is not that far away from the easy believism of some of the current “evangelical” congregations. By adopting the corrupted Bibles, teachings on hell and judgment have been watered down. If we ignore God’s clear viewpoint on sexual perversion, it is easy to buy some of Satan’s other lies that he has introduced into the culture.

This failure to teach God’s preserved words has led to some startling recent statistics. George Barna, a highly respected Christian researcher, has found that only 6% of Americans adhere to a biblical worldview. This is not particularly surprising since he also found that only 37% of American pastors who claim to be Christian hold a biblical worldview. Catholic and mainline Protestant pastors ranged from 6 to 32% respectively.

Other labels had a wide variation in numbers. Those considered evangelical came out at 51%, with Baptists in general at 48%. However, Southern Baptists rated the highest, 78%, but charismatic and Pentecostal pastors matched the national average at 37%.

Another chapter of Barna’s survey included the world view of parents of preteens. The results show how this righteousness only comes through repentance and obedience to God’s word—revival.

Historically, few men stand out like Charles Finney on the subject of revival. Jack Chick was so impressed with Finney’s writings that he illustrated some of his points in the book, THE LAST CALL. It is a message desperately needed today.

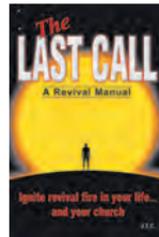

weakness in pastors affects the family. This is highly significant because a person’s worldview starts to form before he is two years old and is largely complete by the time he reaches 13.

The survey included both general population parents of preteens and children of self-identified Christian parents. The general figure was 29% and the Christian parents came in at 38% having a biblical worldview. On the Bible as a source of truth, Christian parents came in at 55% with the general population at 42%. On a more practical level, only 14% of Christian parents agreed that “accumulated wealth is entrusted to us by God to manage for his purposes” with general population parents coming in at 10%.

Prospects for the future are not all that good, either. The same survey found that millennials in general, ages 18 to 36, hold only a 2% biblical worldview.

In Jesus’ day these statistics probably were not all that different. But he said it was a field ripe for harvest. The apostles took that challenge and proceeded to turn their world more right side up through the power of the gospel. Our tools today are much more efficient than theirs were. One of those tools is no-nonsense gospel tracts that present a balanced gospel. But they will only work if we put them in the hands of the unbelievers all around us.

Soul winners, we have lots of work to do!

MEXICO

You may remember the 200,000 Chick tracts we sent to a group of churches in the Mexico City area for a big outreach inspired by Missionary Todd Eklund. They have just finished using the last of them.

Eklund writes: "Our Mexico City supermarket tract ministry is bearing fruit: Last year Yola and I gave a handful of Chick tracts to a young man named Jonathan working in the store's electronics department. On Thursday I bumped into Jonathan at the store and he informed me that he and his wife received the Lord Jesus after reading the tracts. Then a bagger at checkout asked me for Bible study material when I informed him we are out of tracts.

And so, we are waiting for more tracts. Please pray. Some will be for right here in mammoth Mexico City. Many will be for Ixtapa/Zihuatanejo. The super strategic market we minister in there reaches precious Mexicans coming to escape their daily life pressures. They come from all over Guerrero, Michoacan and Jalisco states, as well as several others. These three key Mexican states remind courageous Yola and me of Central America, where we preached in the 70's and 80's in Guatemala, El Salvador and Nicaragua. The bloody civil wars in those needy nations were tragic.

And yet, as Psalms 18:6 tells us, when people are knocked down they have but one way to look, and that way is up! Dear Yola and I witnessed the explosion of the Gospel in Guatemala and El Salvador and Nicaragua. The drug wars here in Mexico are not political as were those civil wars in Central America, but they are also bloody terrible wars of violence, intimidation and destruction. THE LORD JESUS is the only hope, and we must continue getting the message out. II Peter 3:15!"

(NOTE: Thanks to your help, we were able to ship him more tracts in May.)

We have an opportunity to ship a container of one million Chick tracts into the Philippines. Missionaries have asked us to supply these for the use of local pastors who are committed to street evangelism. Your gifts will make an impact for Jesus that will be felt throughout this Catholic country, while the door is still open!

Missions Report From p.10

Many of you gave to help with the project of 2 million Chick tracts for Mexico and Latin America. Gary Schwer of the ministry Hands Across The Border has been moving these pallets of tracts into Mexico for us. In the photo on page 10, he and his helpers transfer four pallets (400,000 tracts) to pastors and missionaries who will take them through northern Mexico and also to Brother Joaquín who is taking a load into Nicaragua. Schwer has other distribution points where other pastors are meeting him to provide more to churches in Mexico. The tracts are already widely distributed in northwestern Mexico and have made it all the way down to Baja.

We just learned that the project was delayed when his brakes failed coming down a mountain road, and his trailer was damaged. But Schwer now has it fixed and will finish taking the rest of the 2 million tracts across into Mexico for distribution this summer. A lot of people are going to hear about Jesus! Thank you for helping them.

We just shipped another 10,000 tracts to Missionary Mike Wallace, working in the world's 5th largest city. He writes that in Mexico City "we can easily give out 1,000 tracts in about one hour in our immediate area. We also sometimes go into the downtown area and there are even more people, and we give out even more tracts much quicker, if you can imagine that. Thanks to those who support this great ministry."

PHILIPPINES

One of the pastors who is supplied with tracts by Missionary Mike Carey, sent a picture of "Some of our preachers here in our church. They have their areas around our church here. We have 3 pastors now pastoring their own churches and preachers around vicinity."

Read a tract . . . then pray. That's how it's supposed to work, right?

One pastor reports: "I am able to discuss with youth ages 13 and above regarding what is inside the Gospel tracts. By God's grace there are 13 souls who received Jesus as their Lord and Saviour."

Another writes: "Another lady is now a pastor's wife. It all started with the tracts we gave her."

Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

When I was writing a paper during my study at Fuller Seminary, I visited the Metropolitan Community (Homosexual) Church. I took copious notes with no idea how they would be used later! In late 2000, I sat down with Jack Chick and told him about that visit. Out of that came the story for the tract, Sin City.

Seven years later I told Jack about someone's more personal story. That became the tract, Home Alone? Our tracts aren't made by merely pointing fingers at others. Often, they reflect very direct knowledge.

Jesus said, "...Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh?" (Matthew 19:4-5).

The Creator of all that exists, told us He created a binary system, male and female, and that the male was made to mate to the female, to become "one flesh." In addition, when that one flesh is joined to the Lord Jesus, it becomes "one spirit" with Him (1 Corinthians 6:17).

Anything other than this violates the carefully-made balance and order for man and woman.

When we write tracts —and you give them out— we all need to pray over them. Care about the people to whom you give them, and pray for their souls. That love and care, rather than harshness and condemnation, may just win that precious soul for Christ.

God bless you as you pass out your prayed-over tracts!

In Christ Jesus, and for His service,

David Daniele
