

Girl Scouts Can Now Earn a Sodomite Patch

The organization of mama bears called “One Million Moms” is exposing another low in the moral decline of the Girl Scouts. They quote the organization’s website:

“The Girl Scout LGBTQ+ Pride Month Celebration Fun Patch is designed for Girl Scouts of all levels and their leaders to honor LGBTQ+ history, celebrate their diverse cultures and identities of LGBTQ+ people, and acknowledge the many contributions that the LGBTQ+ community has made and continues to make across our nation. Girls and leaders have plenty of activities to choose from to earn this fun patch and we encourage Girl Scouts of all identities to participate.”

In order to earn the patch, here are some of the activities listed:

“Sketch a portrait of a member of the LGBTQ+ community who you admire; make a LGBTQ+ music playlist; create art that celebrates how families come in all

Signs of the Last Days

In his second letter to Timothy, chapter 3, the apostle Paul gave a detailed description of the “last days.” It is the most damning list of man’s capacity for evil anywhere in scripture.

In Revelation 13 and 14, and Daniel 12 we get a more detailed description of the political and economic situation in the last days. From this we understand that Satan’s ultimate goal is to control the entire world through a centralized government.

Signs of Satan’s progress are surfacing every day.

The World Medical Association (WMA) is a purported independent organization of worldwide physicians. One of its purposes is to publish a revised “International Code of Medical Ethics” that is presented as “a canon of ethical principles for the members kinds; participate in No Name-Calling Week, which is sponsored by the Gay, Lesbian, and Straight Education Network (GLSEN); or attend an LGBTQ+ Pride celebration.”

One Million Moms also notes that this is only a continuation of the Scouts’ moral decline. This slide began several years ago with their support of abortion, Planned Parenthood type sexual education, and other homosexual agendas. They also point out that only 10 to 20% of the revenue from the Girl Scout cookie sales goes to the local troop. The rest goes to the Girl Scouts USA organization collected as royalty on its trademark. Some of the money then goes to support these perverted agendas.

Unfortunately, the Girl Scouts are not alone in this march to evil.

Mike De Socio is a “queer journalist” writing for the Washington Post. He covered the Boy Scout National Jamboree this summer in W. Virginia and was pleased with what he saw. Among the hundreds of tents was one, “...decorated with a canopy of LGBTQ Pride flags and a string of multicolored lights, its tables covered with bowls of rainbow bracelets, pronoun stickers and diversity patches.”

The tent must have been large because one volunteer told De Socio that there had been up to 2000 kids in the tent at once. The volunteer said, “But it was all curiosity, and how do I help, rather than [hostility]. So it’s all been incredibly welcoming and positive.”

Spectacular Pageant Introducing a Buddhist Message

One of the more prominent, conservative news sources has taken on the sponsorship of the Shen Yun performing arts pageant. The performance is billed as a magnificent window into the culture of pre-communist China. It is also viewed as a powerful counter to the Chinese Communist regime since it does have segments dealing with Chinese violation of human rights such as China’s organ harvesting.

The pageant is an expression of the Falun Gong, a Buddhist sect that has come under severe persecution in China. But like with the Bible believers there, the persecution is only driving increasing membership. Falun Gong was introduced into China in the early 1990s and now has an estimated 100 million people practicing it.

Shen Yun is getting wide exposure in the Western World and soul winners need to be aware of the unbiblical roots of this highly acclaimed performance. It also provides a valuable opportunity to witness to someone who has been carried away with the beauty of the pageant and not aware of the connections to oriental religions.

As part of the support for the Shen Yun’s performance, the newspaper also gave a platform to the founder of Falun Gong, a Mr. Li, who explains the theology of the performance. In a lengthy article entitled How Humankind Came to Be, Mr. Li launches immediately into a dire warning that the cosmos is due for a reset, according to his view of the universe.

He is aware of this by a special “higher, closely guarded secret,” which he is about to share with everyone “to give people another chance at salvation.” Mr. Li goes on to describe a complex cosmology involving cycles of formation and destruction, layers of “realms” populated by human beings and divine of the medical profession worldwide.”

But along with a lot of noble statements of providing “care with the utmost respect for human life and dignity,” there is a hidden trap for doctors who oppose the humanist philosophy.

It states: “The physician has an ethical obligation to minimize disruption to patient care. Physician conscientious objection to provision of any lawful medical interventions may only be exercised if the individual patient is not harmed or discriminated against and if the patient’s health is not endangered.”

Since the WMA is closely affiliated with the UN World Health Organization, such “lawful medical interventions” would necessarily include abortion, euthanasia and possibly gender-transition hormone treatments and surgical mutilations.

Another key phrase is: “not harmed or discriminated against.” The definitions of both of these terms have been greatly distorted. People are now claiming to be “harmed” if they feel uncomfortable while walking past a street preacher.

Laws against “discrimination” landed Christian cake baker Jack Phillips in the Supreme Court for his conscientious objection. The spread of these laws has paved the way for the homosexual steamroller that has placed drag queens in libraries, rapists in women’s prisons, men competing against women in sports, and transgender groomers in our public schools.

Yet, this is just the tip of the iceberg with the World Health Organization. Plans are afoot in Washington to turn America’s sovereignty over health care to the WHO. With the COVID-19 pandemic as a test run, we can clearly see how that would play out. Instead of the American Centers for Disease Control calling for lockdowns and mandatory vaccinations, the Dictator General of the United Nations would call the shots. Employment and education opportunities (and possibly food) would only be available to those who cooperated with the mandates.

But health care is not the only game. In finance, plans are being finalized for a global digital currency to replace the dollar and other national money.

Permission to buy or sell would then be controlled by central bank computers. (See Rev. 13:17.)

The open borders is another strategy to dilute the sovereignty and resources of America until it is too weak to resist the rising power of the globalists. International trade agreements are another way to damage industrial freedom and a skilled work force that is necessary to fight off potential invasion or sabotage.

The completeness of this picture points clearly to the end time events outlined in biblical prophecy. As we watch nation rise against nation (Mark 13:8) we are instructed to look up, for our redemption draws near (Luke 21:28).

The struggle now is between the forces of darkness who think they have the upper hand to rapidly steamroll the one world system into place, and praying Christians worldwide that are humbly seeking a move of the Spirit of God to raise up a standard against their plans.

Fortunately, we still generally have the freedom to obey the Great Commission and preach that gospel as widely as we can. But on judgment day will we be found faithful if we squander this fading freedom?

Gospel tracts have no equal in getting the gospel to more people for less cost in the shortest time. ■

Mainline ‘Churches’ Splitting Over Same-Sex Marriage

It is heartening to see that some in the “main line” churches are waking up to the infiltration of pro-homosexual leadership. Recent articles indicate that some 1800 churches have split from the United Methodist conferences and formed a more biblical grouping.

The Episcopalians have suffered a decline of nearly 400,000 members since 2012. A mass exodus began to occur after the ordination in 2003 of Gene Robinson, the first openly homosexual Bishop.

The Church of England (Anglican) recently came out with a plan to bless same sex couples. In response, 2000 Anglican church leaders signed a new declaration opposing the decision. These decisions are particularly significant in view of the fact that there are 85 million Anglicans in 165 countries.

So, how can there be so much confusion when the Bible clearly condemns any sex other than between a married man and woman? Of course, part of it is a twisting of the biblical concept of love. Emotional attraction is not a license to ignore God’s law. In fact, God calls it lust instead of love.

It is partly the result of a pick-and-choose interpretation of the Bible. They largely ignore Romans 1:26-27 and Leviticus 18:22. They highlight Ezekiel 16:49-50 claiming that the sin of Sodom was lack of hospitality, ignoring the context that speaks of them doing abominations that brought God’s judgment.

The newer Bible versions also water down the scriptures such as 1 Kings 14:24, 15:12, 22:46 and 2 Kings 23:7, where the KJV term “sodomites” is translated temple or cult prostitutes. Homosexuals point to this change and claim that that does not include them.

See Splitting p. 7

But the scouts have paid a price. After admitting homosexual men into their leadership in 2015, transsexual boys in 2017, and girls in 2018, they have lost nearly half their membership. Indeed, the Jamboree was attended by about 15,000 compared to the 40,000 that showed up in 2017.

Shortly after this “openness to diversity,” the organization was hit by 80,000 claims of sexual abuse. The $2.46 billion settlement bankrupted the organization. De Socio tries to spin this to the positive by claiming that it created a shift in focus by the Scouts evidenced by a “diversity, equity, and inclusion merit badge” becoming required for Eagle Scout rank.

To demonstrate how pervasive this is in the organization, De Socio visited the tent set up for girls. There, a 19-year-old “bisexual” volunteer told him, “I know the people that are coming through here, like trans, nonbinary youth, the queer youth, are having a great time seeing themselves represented in a space that they love so much, that is scouting.”

Fortunately, when the Boy Scouts began to fail, another organization was formed in 2014 to provide an alternative. It is called Trail Life USA and already has over 1,000 troops with an auxiliary called America Heritage Girls and a strong reputation for helping to keep the kids on the straight and narrow.

This shocking attack on the innocence of our children is further evidence that we need to get the gospel out while we still have the freedom to do it. ■

Splitting From p. 6

Some leaders have questioned whether these churches should even use the word “church” since they so blatantly ignore the scriptures that are the foundation for Christ’s church. But the Bible predicted this kind of apostasy and encouraged beings capped off by a Creator with a capital “C.” Part of his “secret” seems to be a prediction that we are near the end of the destruction phase of the cycle evidenced by all of the evil emerging in the world.

Somewhere in the mixture there appears to be a heaven to be gained, ostensibly by proper behavior. Here we learn a little bit more about salvation: “Salvation is a process of ascending from low to high, and so one has to start from the bottom,” which appears to be in this natural world with all of its hardships.

This is where “karma,” the Buddhist system of merit and virtue, is introduced. So, how does karma go up or down? “Anyone who manages to stay good-natured amidst painful situations and interpersonal troubles is going to build up merit and virtue and, as a result, will achieve the elevation of his or her soul,” writes Li.

We now live in a universe that is destined for destruction because of the increase in “karma and sins.” He compares this to the Christian doctrine the true believers to stand up for the truth. Historically, gospel literature has played a major role in calling the church back to truth. Today, we have a great responsibility in that area. The tools are there and we will surely be judged if we fail to use them effectively. ■ of original sin.

It is all summarized in the concept of reincarnation: “Everything that happens in one’s life—whether it seems warranted or not—is, in reality, the karmic consequence of what one did in one’s past lives, for better or for worse... The reason some people lead happy lives and others do not all comes down to rewards and retribution for past deeds.”

As you can see from this small sampling, the roots of Falun Gong are firmly attached to classic Buddhism. Many are being enthralled by the Shen Yun spectacular. But if you have family members or friends that are captivated by it in a spiritual way, you need to brief yourself on Buddhism and be prepared to help them refuse the subtle spiritual influence.

At the moment, Chick Publications does not have any literature on Buddhism in stock. We have one tract called The Tycoon, but interest in the subject has been so low that we have not reprinted it recently. However, you can read it our website at: www.chick.com/products/tract?stk=0016. ■

They Just Need Jesus

National Review recently carried this headline: “Lawlessness Is Spreading in Our Cities.” The flavor of the article was not outrage at the evil but more like, “Oh my! What have we done to ourselves?” It goes on to describe how our judicial policies have been changing. Incarceration has been replaced by an attitude of forgiveness motivated by a hope that that will induce the criminally inclined toward better behavior.

It goes on to cite case after case nationwide where this policy has only encouraged further lawlessness. If they had been schooled in the Bible, they would understand how mercy without repentance only encourages sin.

Until the heart is changed by the spirit of God, the Bible is clear in describing men’s hearts as “desperately wicked” (Jeremiah 17:9). And when repentance is not forthcoming, judgment is prescribed. However, the prescription for that judgment is clear: “Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.” Ecclesiastes 8:11.

In the past, law enforcement policy has taken this factor into consideration. The most effective approach in recent times has been called the “broken windows” approach. It simply said that when you locate persons who are breaking windows and stop their career of crime at that point, you will head off most of the more serious offenses.

Of course, this also needs to be backed up with a saturation of the culture with the gospel so that the person will understand that repentance at that point is what will set them on the right track. Chick tract passers have found many ways to do this saturation.

One church in San Diego, California, organized 30 people to reach the thousands of people who were going to visit a 3-day Comic-Con convention, celebrating the comic book industry.

Afterward, the leader reported: “We distributed 18,000 tracts at our Comic-Con Outreach today!!! Amen!!! It was a huge blessing.. It’s Comic-Con, how can people not take comics —right!?”

Others are using the “FREE TAKE ONE” method. They approach local merchants to allow them to place the small 4-pocket tract rack somewhere in the stores. Then they go back every week to replenish the tracts.

One retired couple involved their church in the program and ended up saturating a 3-county area in southwestern Indiana with over half a million tracts in a 5-year period. They knew the saturation was deep when they would offer someone in town a tract, only to be told, “I’ve seen that one. Do you have any others?”

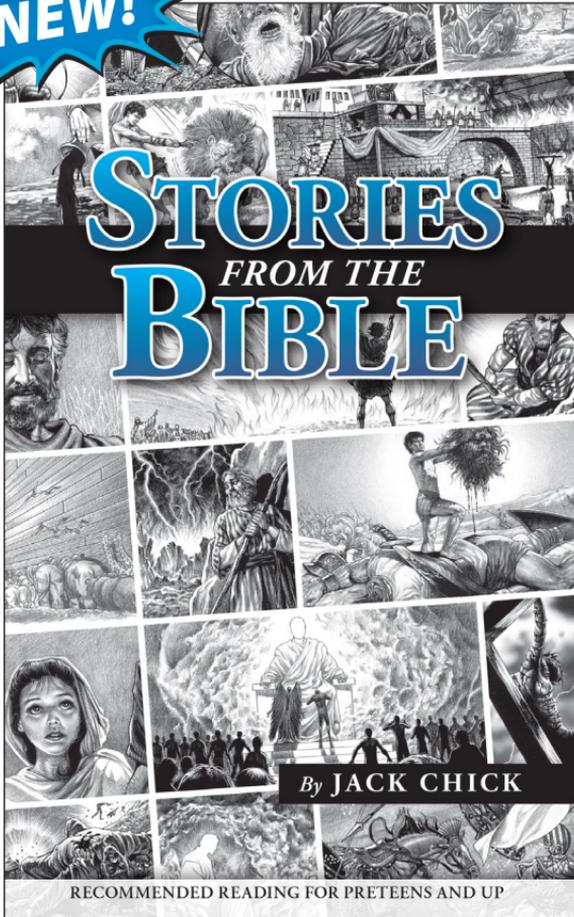

Another man in Louisiana led a group from his church to target the local bus stops. After six years, he reports that his group has grown from 15 to 40 and they have handed out over a hundred thousand tracts. After covering the bus stops, they branched out to getting permission to hand out tracts outside 20 supermarkets.

These are just a few of the stories that people have when they write to Chick Publications describing how they have used the tracts to saturate their communities. In these stories are reports of hundreds that have accepted forgiveness for their sins.

America was founded on the concept that the gospel would so permeate the culture that lawlessness could not prosper. Along the way, Satan persuaded Christians that gospel tracts do not work. These stories prove that this is a diabolical lie. If lawlessness is going to be held at bay, we need more people with a large vision taking the Great Commission seriously. ■

Missions Report From p. 10

“There are several small islands that are located off of Eastern Samar! Perhaps 30 or more... a few of them are so small no one lives there. Of the ones who have people... we were able to reach out to 10 of them in the week Bro. Joshua’s group were here! Those islands have a combined population of about 20,000 people. We preached the gospel to 100s of them! Passed out more than 4000 Chick tracts! Led several people to the Lord!”

MEXICO

When 14-year veteran missionary Lacy Wheeler called to ask for 100,000 Spanish Chick tracts for outreaches in Mexico, you stepped up! Thanks for your giving, we were able to ship 100,000 Chick tracts for his work in Mexico. He reports that the pastors and evangelists that he works with are anxious to get them!

Last minute news! Wheeler still has several more mission churches that need help reaching out and we were able to send an additional 50,000 spanish tracts to help! Thank you for your faithfulness.

I hope to start meeting on Sundays by the end of July or the first of August. I gave a tract to a lady at the hardware store, and she summed up what I hear from lots of people. UNITED KINGDOM

Kristina Kim and her husband are two of the dedicated evangelists working out of the Cross Mission in the London area. Faithfully working the streets and buses, they pass out Chick tracts and have face-to-face discussions with atheists, Muslims, Hindus, etc. Kristina describes just one of those encounters:

“I met an Indian lady who is visiting her relatives with her family and will go back to India soon. Amazingly, she said she read the Bible twice searching something related to God as well as other religion.

She said she is Hindu just by birth. Even though she read the Bible, she doesn’t seem to understand the Gospel. So I sat down close to her on the lawn and started to explain who Jesus is and what He has done for us. In the end she admitted that she is really a sinner and believed in heaven and hell. I asked her if she really believes that Jesus died for her sin and if she wants to accept Jesus Christ as her personal Saviour. She said yes! I helped her to pray for the acceptance of Jesus.”

Another day, Kristina reports “Two Brazillians, a 17-year-girl and boy accepted Jesus genuinely.”

Thanks to your faithfulness, we just shipped another 30,000 Chick tracts to this ministry. ■

Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

Halloween is again upon us! And while some Christians huddle in their homes with their lights off, the rest of us see a glowing opportunity to preach the gospel to children!

I am so sick and tired of everyone representing the world, the flesh and the Devil influencing our kids, 24/7. Everything from men who act like ugly stereotypes of women, to evil doctors and fake counselors, trying to mutilate the body parts of our children and grandchildren.

What can we do?

We have the best weapon against them under heaven: The gospel! We have the ability to fight devils to their face and reach right into the heart of those precious little ones —and precious young adults and older people, as well!

Never forget: we have the message of eternal life! No devil of hell can top that. We have the message and the hope, for people who are messaged-out and hopeless.

But how do we give this message out? Gospel tracts!

Such an easy way to reach so many, so fast, so completely. We give them the gospel in an easy-to-read form, and it speaks to their heart, and to their sinful condition.

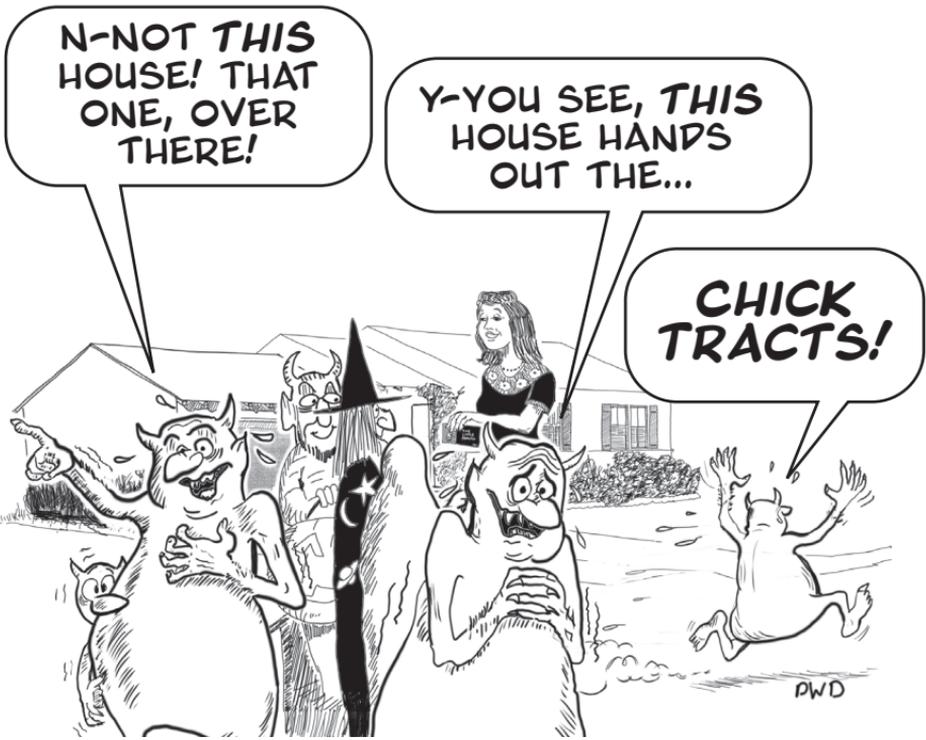

This Halloween, be a rebel against the system. Stock up with tracts and use them to give the gospel to as many people as possible. It's a once-a-year chance to reach children that you may hardly see otherwise. And if they don't come to your door, go to find out where the children are! You know the evil forces will be there.

Let's use the tracts to give the Devil such a bad time, that he will regret making this day special that brings so many unsaved people right to our doors.

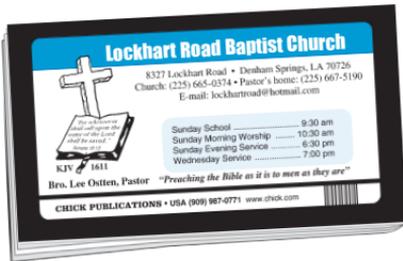

God bless you as you use this opportunity to make a huge dent in the Devil's plans and bring more souls into the kingdom of God!

In Christ Jesus, and for His service,

David Daniele
