If Jesus Lied, Can He be God?

Did you know that no less than 20 modern Bibles leave out a word that casts Jesus in the role of a liar? To check your Bible, read the discussion that Jesus had with his half brothers in John 7. The occasion was the Feast of Tabernacles. All Jewish males were required to attend this feast at Jerusalem.

Jesus’ half brothers were all packed and were taunting Jesus because He was not ready to go with them. His answer has left the translators of modern Bibles very confused. One version, the New American Standard (NASB) quotes Jesus this way: “I do not go up to this feast...” The New International Version (NIV) reads: “I am not yet[a] going up to this Feast.” But the Today’s New International Version

One reason the ancient Hebrew tribe, known today as Jews or Israelis, still exists is their steadfast refusal to be “assimilated” into other ethnic cultures. Currently in Israel there are organizations dedicated to “anti-assimilation.”

After decades of pressure on the Vatican, one such organization received electrifying news recently. A representative of the pope suggested that the Vatican might release the names of the Jewish babies who were handed over to the Catholic church during the Holocaust.

It seems that thousands of Jewish children were saved from the gas chambers by being adopted by non-Jewish families or placed in Catholic orphanages, nunneries and (TNIV), supposedly based on the NIV, puts it this way: "I am not [b] going up to this Festival." (The [a] and [b] footnotes explain: Some "early manuscripts" omit the word for yet.) Where does that leave the reader of these Bibles, if these great "Bible scholars" doing the translation can't make up their minds?

So, what are we to believe? Was He not going? Or was He just not going yet? If He said to them that He was not going, then He flat out lied to them because He later went in secret. And since He did go, it makes perfect sense that the "yet" belongs in the verse.

The implications of this little word are huge. If He didn't attend the feast, He would violate the very law that He (as God) gave to Moses. If He said He wasn't going, but went anyway, His brothers would quickly pick up on the lie. They didn't believe He was the Messiah, so would be looking for any fault. They knew that God didn't lie, so here they would have proof that He was not God.

Yea, hath God said...?

What happens to the reader is the same thing that happened to Eve in the garden when Satan smirked: "Yea, hath God said...?" Doubt was introduced into Adam's perfect world. And when we look at the missing words in these modern Bibles, Satan is right there on our shoulder whispering, "Yea, hath God said...?"

Linguist David W. Daniels, in his new book, Look What's Missing, points out that this is only one of over 250 places in 40 different modern Bibles where words, phrases and even whole verses are missing.

Another place where it appears that Jesus lied is in His statement in Matt. 24:35: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." Here it seems that Jesus is assuring us that His words will appear somewhere even if heaven and earth disappears. Just for emphasis, this statement is repeated in Mark 13:31 and Luke 21:33.

What are you doing with MY words?

Because of the doubt and confusion caused by the modern Bibles, many churches have declared in their statements

Mainline Churches Use Defective Bibles to Approve Sin

One after another, the "mainline" churches are ignoring the Bible to follow politically correct paths that the Bible calls sin. The Episcopal church is experiencing a major split over the installation of a practicing homosexual bishop. Individual congregations are forced to decide whether to obey the Bible or follow the denominational leaders.

This August, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) also voted to lift a ban on homosexual clergy. Already, ELCA congregations are forming another denominational alliance claiming that the ELCA has "departed from the teaching of the Bible as understood by Christians for 2,000 years."

One reader of an internet article on this vote observed that the root of this controversy began in the 1970s. Branches of the Lutherans in the U.S. took two different views of the Bible. One, led by the Missouri Synod, took the position that the whole Bible is the word of God.

240,000 Gospel ‘Seeds’ Planted in Zimbabwe: Harvest Ripe

Missionary Bill Eubanks has just returned from a major outreach in Zimbabwe and found the country “wide open to the gospel.”

Using a multipronged approach, he was able to share the gospel in 40 rural schools and showed the gospel video, Light of the World, 30 times to crowds from 40 to 900.

240,000 Chick tracts were shipped there before his arrival. “There was no problem handing out ten to twenty thousand tracts a day,” he reports. “Only two or three people refused to take one the whole time.”

Public meetings were difficult to arrange in the larger cities, but everyone would take a tract. Tens of thousands of these “paper missionaries” were planted in the capital and surrounding cities.

A few people even came up to them in public and asked how to be born again. Bill shared the gospel and then knelt with them to pray right on the street.

However, the rural areas were wide open to their ministry. He was welcomed in 40 schools where the entire student body would be assembled to hear the gospel. Hundreds of the students responded to the invitations to accept Christ. At night, whole villages would assemble to view the Chick gospel video, Light of the World, and many would answer the altar call.

In one village, the chief requested a private showing after the regular showing. He and his whole house accepted the Lord.

Bill Eubanks shown here in two pictures from previous trips to African countries. Bill just returned from Zimbabwe and we were not able to get pictures from him before we had to go to press.

Eubanks says it is hard to estimate how many came to Christ in the few weeks he was in Zimbabwe but he believes it was ten to fifteen thousand. He believes that this trip laid the groundwork for an ongoing ministry opportunity.

He discovered a large Baptist organization in Zimbabwe that has invited him to join them in providing ministry training to the converts there. Together they plan a Bible institute where young men can be trained and sent out to “strengthen the brethren,” which is badly needed.

The people are very open to the gospel but have little Bible background. They are eager to learn more about their new faith. The Chick tracts provided the simple gospel, but more grounding in the word is needed.

Chick.com—Another Powerful Witnessing Tool

Soul winners who use Chick tracts should also be aware that Chick Publications also has another powerful witnessing tool. Each week, thousands of people visit the chick.com web site. There you can read every tract currently published and many of the ones that have been discontinued. If you are witnessing to someone and don't have a copy of the right tract for the occasion, you can direct the person to the Chick web site where they can read the tract that you wish you had to give them.

In addition, the web site also provides full copies of at least one tract in over 100 languages. If you are attempting to share the gospel with someone who does not speak your language, you can direct him to our web site for one in his language.

An example of the power of the web site came to us in an email. This person writes that he had seen the tracts as a kid and even saved all of them he could get. Over the years, he "left Christianity 35 years ago due to personal differences." Fifteen years later he became a Wiccan.

A few months ago a roommate suggested he look at our web site for a good laugh "in a negative way." He found This Was Your Life on the web site and recognized it from reading it as a child. "I kept coming back to this one and it got me scared about hell," he writes. "It affected me so much that I left Wicca behind and converted to Christianity. I am now a born-again Christian."

Where he came at first to laugh at the tracts, the word of God in them convicted him. The web site brought home the message he had read years ago and the frank declaration about eternal hell drove him to accept Christ.

If you haven't explored the chick.com web site, you should make it an additional tool in your soul winning. If you are witnessing to someone who will give you his email address, you can email a full copy of the tract you wish him to read.

Beside the tracts, there are other articles and books on most subjects that you will encounter in your witnessing. They can be a major help in your own understanding of the many points of view of the people you encounter in your witnessing and a place to send them for more information. There are also witnessing strategies described that will make you a more effective soul winner.

Adventures in Witnessing

For years I have loved Chick tracts and have handed out thousands of them. The one tract that I have feared handing out the most was Are Roman Catholics Christians? I felt that the people would beat me up or “say all manner of evil against me.” Two weeks ago I got tired of hearing of people who, in addition to attending a protestant church, also attended a Catholic church.

I felt it necessary to get the truth out about the Catholic church regardless of the cost because there aren't many “protestant” churches willing to tell the truth about the Roman Catholic church.

In the past two weeks, I have handed out hundreds of Are Roman Catholics Christians? tracts. I was stunned by the response. People take them! I have only had three ladies in a group that handed them back to me. I just know that we have a limited time to get the truth out. I urge Christians to humble themselves and reach our precious Catholic friends while we can. Time is so short.

monasteries. It is believed that detailed records exist somewhere of the names, dates and locations where these children were placed. Apparently these children were raised as Roman Catholics and not told of their Jewish heritage.

Rabbi Shalom Dov Lifschitz, head of the anti-assimilation organization, believes that, if these records were revealed, thousands of these “lost Jews” may be alive and would learn for the first time of their Jewish heritage. Since word has gotten out that the pope might finally reveal the records, Lifschitz's offices have been “flooded” with emotional letters, many containing details that would help identify them.

Jewish organizations in Europe are poised to “reveal to Holocaust orphans their Jewish past and provide them with accurate information concerning their families,” should the pope choose to release the records.

This little-known aspect to the Holocaust exposes the duplicity of the Vatican during the horrors of Hitler's attempt to solve the “Jewish Problem.” For most of the last 1500 years, the popes have done everything they could to wipe out the Jews. Declaring them “Christ killers” and unfit to exist, they have harassed them into ghettos and inflamed mobs and civil governments into executing them.

Ex-Jesuit Priest Alberto Rivera was told in secret briefings that Hitler was secretly supported by the Vatican in his attempt to execute “a final solution to the Jewish problem.” Rivera explains the details in the Alberto series Crusaders Comic, The Godfathers. Further information is contained in Section V of The Secret History of the Jesuits by Edmond Paris. Both volumes are available from Chick Publications at www.chick.com.

What appears on the surface as an act of mercy in saving these babies, was actually a subtle attack on the Jews. By raising them as subjects of the pope and never disclosing their heritage, their Jewishness was obliterated just as effectively as Hitler's gas chambers. Apparently the pope thinks that enough time has passed that it is safe to reveal the names or someone misspoke and the Jews are not going to allow it to pass.

Today, this leopard has attempted to change its spots, but occasionally evidence surfaces proving that Roman Catholicism

The others proposed that the Bible only “contained the word of God.” The reader notes, “If the Bible only contains the Word of God, you can pick and choose what is of God and what is of men.”

This “picking and choosing” began a long time before 1970, according to the author and linguist, David W. Daniels. He has written extensively of another time when proud men made arbitrary decisions as to what should be in the Bible.

His book, Did the Catholic Church Give us the Bible?, gives a detailed history of one stream of manuscripts that contains thousands of examples of this “picking and choosing” by men. He describes how early copies of scripture arrived in Alexandria, Egypt to be studied by world-class “scholars” of that time. Because they did not believe Jesus was God and were infected with Greek philosophy, they began altering the text to fit their disbelief.

Those polluted manuscripts were the ones picked up by Westcott and Hort as the foundation Greek for the modern Bible versions. Since then, the “translators” of these modern versions took the same liberties based on the “pick and choose” philosophy that the Bible only contains the word of God. This has produced several dozen versions today, which omit and change hundreds of verses. They disagree among themselves and in some cases even contradict each other.

Daniels traces another stream of manuscripts that flowed from the original apostles in Jerusalem up through Antioch. Copies were preserved in Europe during the dark ages, sometimes in caves to avoid destruction.

Ultimately, these faithful copies were used by the Reformers to give us God’s preserved words in English, the King James Bible.

In another book called Look What’s Missing, Daniels examines 40 of the God Weighs in on Pro-Homosexual Vote?

The same day that the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America voted to approve homosexuals in leadership, a storm moved through the area where the convention was being held. A small tornado dropped down at the Minneapolis Convention Center a few hours before the vote causing little damage but it got the attention of the delegates.

One of the delegates who worked on the resolution, commented, “We trust the weather is not a commentary on our work.” Others saw a warning of God’s anger. A local Baptist pastor whose church is near the convention center commented: “The tornado in Minneapolis was a gentle but firm warning to the ELCA and all of us: Turn from the approval of sin. Turn from the promotion of behaviors that lead to destruction.”

The pattern of the weather commenting on a current event is not unusual. In the Chick tract, Somebody Angry? a pattern is described of floods, tornados, hurricanes and other natural disasters in the U.S. coinciding with pressure placed on Israel to give up God’s land to Islam.

God is not only jealous of His land and His people, but of His laws. When we violate His laws, He begins with gentle reminders of our rebellion. If we persist, He has ways of putting us in a “world of hurt.” Soul winners, we need to sound the warning every way possible: by tracts, personal witnessing and speaking out against sin at every opportunity.

New Discoveries Continue to Shake the Evolutionist's World

Evidence of a young earth continues to pile up. Creation Science Evangelism, producers of the Kent Hovind Creation DVDs, describes how meteorites are largely missing in sedimentary rock.

If the rock was formed over billions of years, the steady rain of meteors would show up in great quantities throughout the layers.

However, if the sediment forming the rock resulted from a sudden world-wide flood over a year or two, then few meteorites would be imbedded. This, coupled with the absence of a thick layer of cosmic dust on the moon, speaks clearly of a young solar system.

Thomas Heinze, author of Vanishing Proofs of Evolution and How Life Began, included the following picture in a recent email.

Teacher, if artists had to design and carve the Presidents' faces on the rock...then who designed the real Presidents?

Uh...they evolved!

through the water. Atheists and many evolutionists believe that the first life was something simple like a bacterium that was formed when some chemicals came together by accident. Intelligent Design people say: 'There is no way that a series of lucky accidents could have made a thing like this!'

Evidence of a young earth is the devastating factor in destroying the argument of evolutionists. The only substitute they have for a Creator is Time.

It is their "god of creation." If the cosmos is not millions, or billions, of years old, then the imagined mutations that evolutionists believe to have created life and man cannot have happened.

"Time" is the only refuge they have from the deluge of evidence piling up against the evolutionary theory. With each newly developed research tool comes additional proof of an intelligent, awesome Creator.

To suggest that a complex bacterial motor such as that in the picture could have been constructed "accidentally" over millions of years appears increasingly ridiculous. Each new discovery, such as the DNA molecule and the complexity of a single cell, radiates the glory of God.

But He said that those who refused to believe in God would be sent a "strong delusion, that they should believe a lie"

Why Did You Put My Story in this Tract?

Mike Cahill called with this story of a recent adventure while passing out copies of Unloved. Seeing a lonely looking guy, Mike gave him a copy of Unloved and went on down the street. In a few minutes the man came running up to him demanding, "Why did you give me this tract?"

Before Mike could answer, the man said, "This is all about me. How did you know about me? Tonight I was going to commit suicide." Mike talked to him for a few minutes and invited him to trust the Lord but he said he didn't trust anyone anymore.

Mike told him to read the tract and then pray the prayer at the end and offered to buy him a meal at a nearby restaurant if he would come back the next Wednesday.

Sure enough, he did meet Mike at the appointed restaurant. Mike learned that he had had a series of setbacks in life including alienation from his family and loss of jobs. In the course of the meal, Mike felt the time was right and asked him if he wanted to commit his life to Jesus. He accepted and prayed the prayer of salvation.

New Spanish Bible Corrects Alexandrian Pollution

It seems that there is a new English Bible version every month. Not so in Spanish. Two translations have dominated since the early 20th century.

Both are called Reina Valera (RV) but are dated about 50 years apart: 1909 and 1960. These have roots in the Textus Receptus, the foundation of the King James Version in English.

However, to those roots were added changes from the Alexandrian stream of polluted manuscripts. Many were disturbed by this and some attempts at correction were made.

Since the turn of the century, a new version of the RV has appeared by a dedicated Spanish missionary, Humberto Gomez. A native of Mexico with a lifetime of ministry, he spent years meticulously comparing the 1960 RV to the 1602 and 1909 Reina Valera, the King James and Textus Receptus (TR) manuscripts. He carefully converted the polluted verses back to the KJV and TR meanings.

As Spanish Bible believers reviewed the first copies, they recognized this was unlike any Spanish Bible they had ever seen. It brought conviction, doctrines were getting clearer, and they wanted copies right away. Gomez wanted to spend a few more years checking the text. The churches said, "We will help you."

Spanish-speaking believers in over twelve countries reviewed and submitted corrections. In addition, Gomez submitted the text to Spanish and English linguists and experts in Greek and Hebrew.

After five years of testing and checking the text, now it is being published in its final form.

Here was a version doctrinally faithful to the TR stream as well as linguistically suitable for the modern Spanish world. Since the first printing, almost a hundred thousand copies have been sold amid increasing acclaim.

Teaching material using the Reina Valera Gomez (RVG) is being developed by various publishers. Chick Publications is releasing a Spanish version of the English booklet, Why the King James Bible is the Perfect Word of God.

Instead of the KJV, it features the RVG and is in Spanish. Like the English version, it is designed as a workbook-type teaching tool leading the student to understand how and why the RVG is God's word in Spanish. This new book, Por Qué La Biblia Reina Valera Gómez Es La Perfecta Palabra de Dios, will build faith in your Spanish Sunday School and Bible class students in God's perfect word.

most popular modern versions to show that they are missing hundreds of words, phrases and whole verses that were preserved for us in the King James Bible.

It is understandable that these denominations have lost their way when they are reading Bibles that are so corrupted that they do not believe that they have God words. No wonder they "pick and choose" verses that support what they want to believe, rather than trusting the Bible for what it says.

We have a classic example of this confusion when dealing with homosexuals. In some cases where the KJV uses the clear word "sodomites," the modern versions read "temple prostitutes."

Homosexuals look at this and say, "We are not temple prostitutes, so the Bible is not talking about us." No wonder there is such confusion in these denominations when they are relying on these defective Bibles.

WORKBOOK BUILDS FAITH IN GOD’S WORD

Great for:

- Sunday Schools
- Youth groups
- Bible studies
- Christian schools

Our Christian faith in the King James Bible is constantly being undermined. On Christian TV and radio, other versions are praised and promoted, and “experts” declare that certain verses are better translated in non-KJV versions.

Here’s help.

This 44-page workbook contains five powerful lessons. Each one drives home the truth that the King James Bible is the perfect Word of God.

As readers look up verses and fill in the blanks, their eyes will be opened and their faith in God’s Word will grow.

Help build a solid foundation in young Christians by showing them the truth about the King James Bible.

Gospel “Seeds” ... Evolution...

Eubanks plans to return again next year to plant more tracts for spiritual seed and assist in establishing the Bible institute to water those seeds into a great harvest. He has been to Africa six times and says that the people of Zimbabwe are more accepting of the gospel than any other country where he has ministered. He believes that it could become a base from which the gospel can be carried even to neighboring countries.

He was surprised to find no Muslim influence in the country and that even foreign missionaries were welcome to minister as long as they did not get involved in government politics.

Bill asks our prayers for the nearly quarter million “paper missionaries” seeded into Zimbabwe as well as the converts and native leaders who will disciple those who came to faith in Christ. Only a revival in Africa can stop the corruption that devastates the economies. And only revival can stop Islam’s vicious advance.

He has succeeded in booting God out of the public schools, colleges and universities and installing the god of evolution instead. Most TV and movie plots include the assumption of the evolution of man.

Jesus told Pilate that He had come to bear witness to the truth. He has commissioned us to take that truth to all the world. Soul winners, we need to do all we can to raise doubt about evolution and also “bear witness to the truth.”

Besides paperbacks and DVDs, Chick Publications provides several tracts designed to cast doubt on evolution and point to the Creator.

The tract, Big Daddy? and the booklet, In The Beginning...Soup? present basic facts that destroy the theory of evolution. Tracts In The Beginning and Moving On Up contrast evolution with the Bible story of creation and work well with students.

Let’s use this literature to seed the truth into our communities to counter the monstrous lie of evolution and teach the truth that there really is a Creator who loves us and has provided a way to deal with the guilt of our sin.

Since we no longer have them, Jesus’ actual words that we can trust, must have “passed away.” Did Jesus really lie about this one, too?

Daniels, in his books, Look What’s Missing, Did the Catholic Church Give Us The Bible, and Answers to Your Bible Version Questions, shows why Jesus told the truth and we do have a Bible we can trust, that Jesus preserved as He promised—the King James Version.

A MESSAGE FROM JACK CHICK...

Dear Ones in Christ,

As we look at the mess America is getting into, it's easy to become discouraged. But history shows that even after God's judgment has begun, there is still hope if people will turn to Him. It's not too late!

Today Satan is working in our land. We have forgotten God, outlawed the Bible in our schools, and murdered 70 million innocent babies without batting an eye. Many churches are giving up and becoming just another social club. People are taught that there is no right or wrong, and revolution is building in the hearts of Satan's crowd.

But it doesn't have to be that way. There is something we can do! Over two hundred years ago, England was in danger of toppling into the bloodbath of a revolution like the French were about to go through. BUT GOD...our merciful God, moved two brothers, John and Charles Wesley, to create tracts and distribute them all over England. Those tracts blocked Satan's plans and England survived. The result was a revival that changed the direction of their nation.

Back in 1823 Daniel Webster said, ". . .if religious literature is not widely circulated among the masses in this country, I do not know what is to become of us as a nation. . . if God and His Word are not known and received, the devil and his work will gain the ascendancy (upper hand)."

God is still on His throne, and if His people will humble themselves and pray and turn from their wicked ways, God will hear from Heaven and heal this land. Waking them up to what God requires is our job. The Lord Jesus gave us a command, "To preach the gospel to every creature." God has given Chick Publications great gospel tracts to reach the masses and hold back the coming Holocaust.

We can do it. Pass only three tracts a day for a year and you will touch over a 1,000 souls.

God bless you and give you a bold spirit! It's not too late.
